THINKING OUT LOUD

By H. M. L.

When we reflect on the generous giving of Americans to the Red Cross, the USO, and other activities during the late war, we come to the reasonable conclusion that the most practical means of helping the famine threatened millions across the oceans, is the present appeal to that generosity. We predict that if the various governmental agencies will provide the cars and ships there will be an outpouring of canned goods and dried foods that will save countless lives abroad.

We heartily approve the measures taken by the government to cut down the wheat supplies that now go into domestic flour manufacture, the elimination of grain used in manufacturing alcoholic beverages, and other devices for increasing the supply of wheat and grain to send to the starving. Particularly, cutting off grain supplies to distilleries and breweries seems to us a very sensible step. We note that both these industries are threatening the country with a blacck market in liquor and a return to the high-jacking and moon shining days of the prohibition experiment.

We are not inclined to cross bridges before we come to them, but in event the liquor business does go into a black market frenzy, and we come again to bath tub gin and cellar brewed beer, we believe that the repercussions will affect the industries very adversely. The great majority of Americans are honest, generous and progressive. If the liquor interests cannot police their business while this country is engaged in the greatest attempt in history to salvage human lives, it is very likely to find onerous restrictions by state and federal governments imposed on them when the emergency is over. There are many states which now impose local option on retail outlets in liquor. In Kentucky for instance, a city ward alone can shut out saloons in its confines.

The liquor interests would do well to remember that prior to the first world war, sober citizens of the United States had severely fenced them in. In many states liquor was completely barred and in others large cities and counties had established prohibition, had limited the amount of alcohol in beverages, or had imposed other limitations.

The liquor interests point out in the present emergency that grains used in the manufacture of liquor are not of a grade usually going into food processing. They entirely overlook the fact such grains are at the moment badly needed for stock and poultry food. As matters stand at the moment, slaughter of livestock badly needed for the maintenance of stable meat supplies in future is threatened because wheat and other grain shipments abroad are cutting into all supplies normally used for stock food in this country.

The call for canned foods and cash to help feed the famine threatened populations of Europe and Asia, we believe will meet with more than the usual generous response on the part of the American people. There is no limit to the need and we do not doubt there will be a continuing effort to supply that need. Of course we should like to be assured that every effort on the part of government is being made to supply needy nations with breeding animals, tools for agriculture and seeds so that these may become self-sustaining as soon as possible. Many factors influence economic recovery in war ravaged countries, but recovery in agriculture depends upon tools, seeds and weather, and most of all, upon restoring the stamina of farming populations to a point where they can go to work.

Included among the handbills will be six which will bear the printing 'this handbill entitles the bearer to a free ticket to the Chamber of Commerce Benefit Dance Saturday night, April 27." TREATIES USUALLY KEPT BERKELEY, April 25—International agreements have been more consistently observed than contracts in private law if those treaties which were made under duress are excluded Dr. Edwin D. Dickinson said.

Such agreements are not enforceable in civil law and it is those international agreements made under some form of coercion which are usually the ones broken giving rise to the widespread belief that all treaties are merely scraps of paper.

Dickinson believe that the firm establishment of international cooperation through such an organization as the UNO would take care of many of the treaties which in the past have been improvidently made without adequate provision for termination or for changing conditions.

NEVADA CITY

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
—AND—
FIFTY YEARS AGO

NEVADA CITY FIFTY YEARS AGO 1896

Reduction: New rates of fare on the NCNGRR. The fare between Colfax and Nevada City will be $1.75; between Grass Valley and Colfax $1.50 and on all trains between Grass Valley and Nevada City 25 cents. J. F. Kidder, Pres. and Mangr. Geo. Fletcher, Gen. Pass. and Tkt. Agt.

Chased By a Lion: A day or two since, while John O'Brien of Lowell Hill this county, was going to the home of his neighbor, Mr. Philips a half mile distant, he suddenly espied a California lion near the trail. The wild beast started after O'Brien who made tracks like the proverbial tan-bark beater and got to his destanation before the animal got hold of his coat tails.

Surrendered the Charter: Nevada Lodge of Good Templars last evening decided to surrender their charter. For the past two years the lodge has struggled hard for an existence but was obliged to give up the fight against the liquor traffic, owing to the falling off in membership and lack of necessary funds. It is a deplorable commentary upon the tendency of the times to know that an institution having such high and laudable aims should be compelled to cease its labors while vice and debauchery of all kinds flourish on every hand.

Miners' Meeting: A fine program has been arranged for the meeting at the Theatre this evening, which will consist of music by Goyne's band, address by President Frandy, duet by Miners Union, recitation by Miss Clara Nancarrow, address by T. J. Torpie, duet by Werry and Kennedy, reading by L. S. Calkins, an address by Samuel Butler, songs, etc. Reserved seat for ladies.

Personal Pointers: R. Huckins is over from North San Juan.

Edgar Hook returned to Berkeley yesterday to the university.

Miss May Buffington returned to Berkeley yesterday to resume her studies at the state university.

Miss Bessie Hodge and her mother Mrs. Richard Trevaskis, went to San Francisco yesterday at which place the former is to be married in a few days.

Phil Curnow and wife were over from Columbia Hill Saturday.

Madam Bell, Clairvoyant: She is now located in Nevada City for one week only. She can be consulted on all business pertaining to the human race. Prices: Gentlemen $2, Ladies $1 and upwards. Can be seen at her parlors, first floor, Union Hotel.

New Houses: Mrs. A. B. Carley is having a dwelling house erected on the back part of her Sacramento St. lot. The new house will face Prospect Street. Al Williams is building it. Phil Byrne is having a dwelling put up on the lot formerly occupied by his lumber storehouse, near his planing mill.

(Avt) Silk Worm Eggs and Mulberry Trees for Sale: 10,000 two year old and three year old mulberry trees of the finest variety; also silkworm eggs. Apply to Ed Muller of Felix Gillet Nursery.

Mining at Omega: Nine companies are now washing at Omega and the camp is quite lively, but the supply of water is not sufficient to allow the companies to run continually. Several of them in order to wash, are required to run at night and suspend operations during the day.

Selling Cheap: As we were passing down Commercial Street yesterday we hear Bill Davidson knocking off a lady's head, chignon, curls and all for $6.50. He was singing out "going once, twice third and last call, sold." and—gets it at six and a half." Chigons are evidently falling.

The Malicious Mischief Case: On Saturday Justice Caldwell's court was occupied until midnight in the case of the People vs. Foster, charged with tearing down a fence claimed by Carr Bros. in Willow Valley. The case was prosecuted by Judge Searls and defended by Williams and Johnson. The jury retired at midnight and after whittling up a cedar post which was brought into court as evidence and failing to agree, they were discharged at 6 o'clock Sunday morning.

Roll of Honor: The following are on the roll of honor of the French Corral school: T. H. Carr, teacher; Belle Burnett, Bertha Loueridge, Edith Dauscher, Winnie Woodfield, Daniel Dempsey, Sarah Williams, Edgar Mull.

DOCTOR SAYS SHOT VICTIM HAS EVEN CHANCE

Mrs. Ann Bonivert Monday afternoon sent a load of No. 4 shot into the neck and head of her son in law, Ed Milligan following a quarrel in which she stated she was beaten and thrown to the floor in her home at Taylorville on the western border of Grass Valley.

Milligan is in the Community Hospital and the nurse in charge reports his condition as satisfactory. Mrs. Bonivert is in the county jail following her arrest last evening by Undersheriff William Woods, Deputy Sheriff Carl Larsen.

The quarrel began about 4 p. m. when Milligan called and demanded to see his wife, Bernice who is suing him for a divorce. Mrs. Bonivert told Larsen that her son in law hit her several times on the head and face with his fists. She said that as she lay on the floor after being knocked down she "took an oath to blow his head off" if she could once get her hands on her shotgun.

At that moment according to the story told the sheriff's deputies her daughter entered and picked up a chair and went after her husband. As he went out the door she hurled a piano stool at him.

Larsen reports that Mrs. Bonivert recovering from her beating got off the floor, seized her shotgun and fired both barrels at Milligan at 30 feet. One cartridge failed to go off but the other sent a load of shot into his neck and near his right ear.

Dr. O. F. Lang who is treating Milligan states that his patient has a fifiy-fifty chance of recovery.

Dr. Lang said that Milligan was still suffering from loss of blood and shock and that no attempt had yet been made to probe for the many No. 4 shot lodged in the back of his head, neck and cheek. One or two shot, the doctor said had gone through his cheek and broken some of his teeth.

Mrs. Bonivert who was lodged in jail Monday night was Tuesday released on her own recognizance, following an investigation made by District Attorney Ward Sheldon. He said that Milligan had told him he did not want his mother in law prosecuted and would not sign a complaint against her. He denied that he had knocked Mrs. Bonivert down, though she did fall.

Milligan said he had spent a large part of the day trying to persuade his wife to return to him and to dismiss a divorce complaint against him. and that Mrs. Bonivert interfered with his efforts.

WHAT THE COLUMINISTS ARE SAYING

EXODUS FROM U. S. Robert C. Ruark

The continent of Australia which is nearly as big as ours but has only seven million people rattling around it it seems due to swell its population soon—and with ex-GIs. And Australia while making no loud public bids for American immigration is still very pleased at the prospect and is quietly assisting.

An Australian official in this country says that 20,000 American ex-soldiers have applied for entry into Australia. This figure is not provable with the Australian Bureau of Information which can show only 60 or so passport applications monthly from the consulate here.

But the figure while probably too high is not necessarily wrong, because recently in order to smooth the path of the emigrating American, Australia has empowered all British consulates to accept visa applications.

COMMUNISTS IN PARTY—Frank Kent

The distressing degree to which the Democratic party management and the Democratic national administration are messed up with the communists and the CIO (to some extent they are identical) is now so clear that hardly anybody takes the trouble to deny it.

This has been going on so long that people have become inured to it. To many it no longer seems shocking that the dominant political party should be regularly trafficking with a group whose basic purpose is the violent overthrow of the American government. Either they just do not care or ignoring the facts regard the allegations as emanating from the Republicans and hence not to be credited. There is also the reason that the truth is so extremely unpalatable that the average decent Democrat revolts against believing this thing about his party.

Yet there is enough evidence to substantiate the charge in any court in the country.

GREATEST NEED—Elisa Maxwell

I know most of the distinguished diplomats and statesmen acting in the play at Hunter College. I know their eminent qualities, their merits the integrity of their convictions and intentions. But I am right when I repeat what we the nations of the world need most is a galaxy of capable men and women.

We need men of good will and vision above all of vision who know and understand the world and other people's aspirations and our own—who look for synthesis and not for antithesis who from the depth of their hearts look for cooperation and friendship and not for competition and hostility.

SAFELY WEATHERED — Marquis W. Childs

Now that the Iranian crisis has been safely weathered it is apparent that the very fact that this first test came over a weak and primitive country may even have been an advantage. We can cherish no illusions that with a technical victory the future of Iran as a sovereign state is forever solved.

To believe that the soviet union will abandon its objective is to fall by a wide margin to understand the soviet union. A Reuters dispatch from Teheran in the New York Post indicates that one demand in the course of the present Russian-Iranian negotiations for 50 pre-Russian deputies to sit in the next Iranian parliament.

ARMS RACE—Joseph and Stewart Alsop

There is no need to fear that the soviet union will be far ahead in an atomic arnaments race by the day after tomorrow. But anyone who thinks that we may as well keep the atom bomb for ourselves is simply inviting such an armaments race.

Let those who have any doubt about these solemn facts consider two documents of historic import. These are reports by the operations and plans division of the war departments to the joint chiefs of staff and by the British chiefs of staff to the British cabinet. Both conclude that there is no effective defense against surprise attack by atomic projectiles and that none can be devised.

DOWNIEVILLE TO CONSIDER INCORPORATION

DOWNIEVILLE, April 25—The board of supervisors have called a public meeting at the court house for Wednesday evening, May 1, when plans for incorporation of Downieville into a city of the sixth class and the formation of a sanitary district will be considered.

Downieville already has a lighting and a fire district. The city is now faced with the necessity of forming a sanitary district to end the discharge of raw sewage into the North Fork of the Yuba River.

Proponents of incorporation point out that as a city of the sixth class Downieville would share in the state collection of liquor, gas an in lieu taxes.

Discussing the proposed incorporation the Downieville Mountain Messenger says:

Recent difficulties in connection with garbage disposal, emptying of raw sewage into the river, inadequate water supply, muddy domestic water; all are among problems confronting Downieville accumulation of which with lack of cure have been items suggesting the meeting. These and many other problems are primarily community, rather than county affairs. Acceptance of their administration and execution by the residents of this community might well be expected to bring more satisfactory results than if continued to be left to naturally less interested county government. Progressive and ambitious local citizens who have deplored such conditions and their lack of authority to improve would have the opportunity under incorporation of correcting many of these conditions.

Downieville already has a lighting district and a fire district with special taxes assessed for each. These could be combined with others under incorporation. Coupled with these, the community is now faced with the need for a sanitary district, whereby threat of infantile paralysis through raw sewage discharged into the river and other afflictions prompted by lack of cleanliness and sanitation, can be minimized.

If incorporated Downieville would share in the alcholic, gas and in lieu taxes collected by the state and now reapportioned back to counties, the cities therein receiving their share which otherwise goes to the county. The in lieu tax is that now collected by the state on automobiles which formerly was assessed by the county in personal property taxes.

There appear to be many advantages to incorporation and perhaps some disadvantages. It might be summed up in consideration of the fact that it must be generally advantageous—evidence the overwhelming majority of communities that incorporate and remain in that status.

The supervisors are presenting an opportunity for those who have complained about local conditions to consider local self government. Those with intestinal fortitude and constructive ideas and ability now have the matter squarely before them.

Will the issue be faced or will they "pass the buck" as some charge others have done in administration of local affairs.

A BAD RECORD—Lowell Mellett

The Republicans have a bad record to parade before the voters and naturally they are going to press the presumption that this is the administration's record, not their own.

This is certain to be the strategy and it may be successful.

After all who is supposed to be in power? The Democrats. Whose record is up for examination? The Democrats. The Republicans of course have been making a record too, an extraordinary record of obstruction—a record of successful obstruction thanks to the Southern Democrats—but the Republican leaders are counting and perhaps correctly on the unlikelihood of the average voter looking that deeply into the matter.

In other words having exerted themselves to make the administrations' efforts futile the Republican leaders now hope to win on this record of futility.

VETERANS LOANS INCREASING FAST

Veteran interest in loan benefits under the servicemen's readjustment act is increasing by leaps and bounds since the provisions of the law have been liberalized.

Applications for loans in Northern California alone jumped from 51 during the week ending Feb. 23 to 360 during the week ending March 23.

Red tape has been cut to a minimum consistent with safe guarding public funds. The lending agency can in most instances determine the eligibility of the veteran without going through the veterans administration until after the loan is made.

The ex-serviceman or woman can now be fairly certain of getting a home, farm or business loan provided he can show he can meet required payments and provided the selling price is reasonable under present day standards.

Question: Where may money be borrowed under the GI bill?

Answer: Anywhere people normally go to borrow money—bank, savings and loan association, or any lending ageny or individual capable of serviceing the loan. The veterans administration does not make loans, but merely provides the guarantee of a portion of the lions. You should apply to a lender.

Question: How should I apply for a loan?

Answer: An honorable discharge or certificate of service will establish your eligibillty for a loan when presented to a leading agency. Go to the prospective lender prepared with facts and figures outlining what you want to do with the money. Have in hand plans and specifications and a building estimate or contract if possible. These preparations will speed your loan. If the lending institution can determine your eligibility as evidenced by your original honorable discharge, is satisfied that you can meet regular payments and that the selling price does not exceed reasonable value as compared with similar property on the present market you should have no trouble getting the loan.

Question: Are there any restrictions on the use of [illegible] obtained under a GI loan?

Answer: Funds may be used to buy, build, repair, alter or improve a home to be occupied by a veteran; to pay delinquent indebtedness, to improve a farm, farm equipment, to buy a business, business property, equipment, inventory stocks. The money also may be used for working capital.

Question: How long do I have to take advantage of a GI loan?

Answer: Ten years after the official termination of the war as determined by congress.

Question: How much interest is charged on a GI loan and how long will I have to repay it?

Answer: Four per cent interest is charged. Home and business realty loans may be made for a term up to 25 years, based on age and existing life of improvements. Farm loans may be made up to 40 years. Loans on non rural estate must be paid off in ten years or less depending on the type and potential life of the property.

Scale-Up For Plutonium Mill 10 Billion Times

ATLANTIC CITY, April 25—The largest industrial scale up in history a jump in size of 10 billion times from a tiny pilot plant was a major factor enabling the United States to produce the atomic substance plutonium in the relatively short period of three years.

Speaking at a meeting of the American Chemical Society here. Dr. Seaborg a co-discoverer of plutonium as well as elements 95 and 96 and a leader of the atmocic bomb project dealing with that substance pointed out that the ordinary industrial scale up from a pilot plant is ten times.

While major difficulties are encountered in the ten time scaue up the 10 billion plutonium scale up from ultra microchemistry to the 400 million dollar Hanford plant was accomplished without major alteration of plan. From the beginning the Hanford plant was able to produce plutonium at the efficinecy suggested by the pilot plant.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Best War Memorial I Know

There's an old war memorial in our town that I like to stop and look at now and then.

Back in 1865, folks gathered up all the bitter relics of battle and put them in a pile: cannon, battered rifles, broken swords, and rusted bayonets. Some of them from our side, some captured from the enemy.

They melted them down, and from this litter of war sprung a monument to friendship, tolerance and understanding—a promise that the bitterness and hatred were forgotten.

Since then, there've been all kinds of disagreements in this country, big and little. Prohibition was one—and there was plenty of bloodshed, misery and grief until the problem was resolved.

But from where I sit, it's part of the greatness of America that we remain a united country. We may disagree as individuals—but, accepting that difference of opinion, we can live in tolerance and mutual respect.

TWO LICENSE PLATES FOR CARS NEXT YEAR

SACRAMENTO, April 18—The average California motorist is now driving a car more than eight years old, but he is going to be able to doll up the old jallopy with two brand new license plates for 1947 if the Warren administration and California peace officer groups have their way.

State officials such as Governor Warren and director of motor vehicles E. E. Lampton feel two plates are necessary to help reduce traffic accidents. They assert it easier to nab hit and run drivers, speeders, drunken and reckless drivers and to recover stolen cars when a shiny new plate is displayed at either end of the car instead of one old plate displayed on the rear.

Numerous law enforcement bodies take the same view and have sent telegrams to Warren and Lampton demanding that two plates be used next year. These include the Califonia State Sheriffs association, the California branch of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, the California Peace Officers Association, the Los Angeles County Peace Officers Association, the Orange County Peace Officers Association the bay counties peace officers association, the justices and constables association and numerous individual sheriffs and chiefs of police. The American association of motor vehicle administrators is also on record for two plates.

As a consequence Gov. Warren has directed letters to all the major steel companies asking that they set aside enough steel to service the more than 3,000,000 vehicles in the state.

Begonias grow 18 feet high in Brazil.

Male fish have larger mouths than female fish.

Washington was the first farmer to cultivate the pecan.

Only a third of North American weeds are native to this country.

A parsec is an astronomical measure of space, equal to three light years.

Last August the labor department had 6346 employees to-day it has 35,000.

The government out of the red—and the reds out of government.—Sen. Wlley.

TIME-SAVING SCHEDULES

The people of California naturally count on Greyhound to provide a system of accurate, convenient, time-saving schedules that so many communities depend on so completely today.

This important Greyhound "first" in travel service is more important now than ever before, and Greyhound does this job better ...because it has trained, experienced experts in schedule building, the buses and equipment to put them into effect, the short, direct routes that save time, and a thorough knowledge of California's local transportation problems.

Greyhound is constantly planning more new schedules to move rapidly and safely—yet provide a complete local intercommunity service. And when the need arises for even faster bus service between larger cities Greyhound sets up extra schedules for additional limited buses to give still more and better service than before.
